Farmingville, NY - Brookhaven Town Supervisor Ed Romaine (right) visited with flood victims and representatives from the New York State Department of Financial Services at their mobile command center at Town Hall following Wednesday's historic rainfall. The command center was set up to assist residents who had questions or problems with their homeowner's insurance coverage.

Residents and businesses whose homes, apartments or businesses were affected by the flooding can call 1-800-339-1759 to speak directly with representatives from the New York State Department of Financial Services for help with insurance related issues. Live representatives are available on the hotline from 8 am - 10 pm through Friday evening, and over the coming weekend from 8 am to 4 pm.

Supervisor Romaine reminded residents that if they believe flooding on their property may have created structural or electrical damage to call 451-TOWN to schedule an inspection to ensure their home is safe.- 30 -
